

NOTE: With pads with no lip at one end, the procedure is to use two "Z" channels. One bolted to the pad while the other to the wall as shown above